

Rachel's Mission Statement: Victory!

I, Rachel, am a beloved and beautiful princess daughter of the Most High & Holy God. I have worth. I matter to Life. My children and children's children are precious in God's sight. My family is healing and growing to become who we were created to be. I focus on well-being for myself, my beloved ones, and all those we touch: physical well-being, emotional well-being, mental well-being, and soul well-being.

I am accomplishing my dreams. My arrow of intention shoots for a successful career in computer programming. My income increases all the time. I share with the victims of misfortune. I am determined to overcome the past and write a new future.

The future is good. There is hope.

I am becoming the epitome of peace. I desire peace in my thoughts, words, and actions. I claim that my beloved ones and I are the Children of Peace. As I lovingly re-parent my dear Inner Child alongside my True Parent - Peace, I grow up into the healthy human I know I am. This undeniable truth is at the core of my being.

I am an Achiever and I am Determined. I am passionate, inspired, and energized.

As an ideal human, I express my love daily in words, affection, and actions. I am supportive and attentive to the needs of those around me. I work through conflict calmly and in the spirit of compromise. I am fully present and emotionally intimate.

I become a human of character and integrity who is a compassionate, inspiring leader and visionary.

I treat my beloved body as sacred by practicing fitness, nutrition, affection, and pleasurable physical experiences. I treat my beautiful mind as sacred by sobriety from alcohol and life-long learning. As the architect of my brain, I am free to rewire this treasure with healthy thought patterns. My emotional well-being is honored daily. Jesus transforms my heart.

Joy and energy are created in my life by quality time with family, healthy relationships, Nature, fitness, creating, and honouring my precious Inner Child. Little Rachel is Wonder Woman. She is fierce. She is wise. She is strong. She gives and receives healthy pleasure. She trusts Jesus. She trusts Life.

I build my reputation as a Woman who is determined, dedicated, trustworthy, and focused. I encourage myself and others along this journey of Life.

I am aware of my Shadow. She is my dear friend. My Shadow lets me know when I am weak. I let her know when she is cruel and unkind. We hold hands and work together for Good from this moment on and forevermore.
